ANOTHER RIVER HORROR.

Burning of the Steamer R. E. Lee, on the Mississippi.

Total Destruction of the Boat and Terrible Loss of Life.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 30.—A special to the Picayune from Vicksburg says: This morning at 5 o'clock a fire broke out on the steamer R. E. Lee, while on her trip to this city, and when about thirty miles below Vicksburg, resulting in the total destruction of the boat and a terrible loss of life. The following is a list of persons known to be lost: Cabin passenger, Mr. Painter, of Mayotte, Ky.; Mrs. McGowan, of New Orleans; Miss O'Connell, nurse, on her way to Baton Rouge; also an infant of Mrs. Searle, of Vicksburg, two colored women, a freedman, five colored cabin boys, second and third chambermaids, one rouletier, Harbo, the boat's carpenter, William Westlake, second engineer, and all the cooks and help, except the party cook. The boats of the boat, and the United States mail, together with five hundred bales of cotton.

The Lee had just been overhauled and newly painted and was on her first trip this season. She left Vicksburg yesterday evening for New Orleans with 500 bales of cotton and a good list of passengers. While en route, at about 3:30 a. m., she was discovered to be on fire and was immediately headed for the Louisiana shore and landed at Natchez. Platoon, thirty-five miles from Vicksburg. In a few minutes she was completely enveloped in flames. Twenty-one persons are believed to have been lost, including many of the crew. The steamer J. M. White passed the wreck about 6 a. m., and took the remaining passengers and crew to Vicksburg. Scattered and Robert Smith were both burned and otherwise hurt. The fire is supposed to have originated in a pantry room. So rapidly did the flames spread that it was impossible for the passengers to reach the boats. Captain J. M. Cannon states that the steamer was owned by the estate of his father, Capt. John W. Cannon, and her commander, Capt. Wm. Campbell. She was valued at $100,000, and insured for $50,000, mostly in local companies. The crew was composed almost entirely of men who have been on the river twenty or thirty years. A boat, besides her supply pumps, had a new fire pump, and a fourteen inch cylinder and seven hundred feet hose. There were always 3 watches on deck.

The Lee was insured for $75,000 in the Delta, of Hartford; $25,000 each in the National, Enterprise and Merchants of Cincinnati, and $25,000 in New Orleans companies.

The following is a list of the passengers saved: Thos. J. Aplan, Texas, La.; C. H. Chapman, of the steamer Vicksburg; Geo. Kane, of New Orleans; James H. Kane, of Louisiana; Abraham, Chicago; Henry Moore, Missouri; J. C. Slott, New York; H. W. Natus, New York; J. M. Friedman, Vicksburg, Miss.; J. B. Dancy, Kansas, Pa.; W. W. English, Carlyle, Ill.; J. H. Livingston, New Orleans; Mrs. Searle, Vicksburg, and a lady with eight children, name unknown.

The Lee left this city last Tuesday, the first trip for five months. The announcement of the destruction by fire of the grand old steamer, Robert E. Lee, will be heard with universal sorrow; the champion of Mississippi waters and the favorite of all the people from New Orleans to Vicksburg, and named after the greatest of heroes and statesmen, and her destruction just at the beginning of the cotton season, and after having undergone a thorough overhauling, will be a serious blow to her owners, as well as to the trade in which she has so long and so faithfully been engaged.

The Virginia Muddle.

Richmond, Va., September 30.—Lientenant Governor Lewis, president of the board of visitors to the Medical College, has not notified the police and faculty that he will hold them responsible under the law, for allowing and illegal arrests. He says he will not and will not say what he will do in the premises.

A new board of visitors of the Medical College of Virginia have been selected since 11 o'clock discussing the affairs of that institution. They were determined to ignore the dispute they met with at the hands of the faculty yesterday, and go on with their labors the same as though they had full possession.

Yellow Fever.

PENSACOLA, Fla., September 30.—This night ends September with a report of 753 cases of yellow fever to date and 73 deaths. The disease has been spreading rapidly for a week and it is, unfortunately, been confined to very poor people. The colored people are being peculiarly susceptible to its ravages. Southern people especially those of Mobile and Memphis, have sent much liberal contributions, and our local board have been enabled to promptly relieve all distress up to this time.

Not Guilty.

ATLANTA, September 30.—R. J. Bolton, Charles A. Miller, Brent Froelich and Jas. T. Self, deputy United States marshals and collectors, charged with the murder of an alderman named Jackson J. Hicks, in Greenville, Ga., in March last, while on a raid, have been on trial here in the United States Circuit Court since Tuesday. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Monument Defaced.

Richmond, Va., September 30.—The monument recently erected in Hollywood Cemetery over the grave of the daughter of ex-President Tyler, was defaced last night. The drapery of the statue of Madison was broken, and the words, "This is a botched job," written underneath.

Three Men Killed.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., September 30.—Near Cornwall Station, on the Middlesex branch of the West Shore Railroad, yesterday, three men were killed and three badly hurt by a premature blast.

Mr. J. C. Flinders' Barn Burned.

The barn belonging to Mr. J. C. Flinders, proprietor of the Hattie House, and situated on his Hattie House farm, about a mile and a half from Knoxville, on the Clinton pike, was destroyed by fire before day yesterday morning. John Bradley who worked there, got up about 2 o'clock, a. m., and was going to the barn, when he discovered a patch of fire, about the size of his hat, in the straw, just getting a start. His first thought was to get the horses out, there being three head there. He began to give the alarm, and Harrison Reynolds, colored, was first to his rescue, and assisted in rescuing the horses. The fire spread very rapidly. Jas. Tarwater was aroused and reached the scene about this time. Besides the horses they only saved the harness and wagon, and a portion of his wheat, badly damaged. He had about 125 bushels of wheat, 75 bushels of threshed oats, a lot of sheep and other roughness, all lost. The barn was a fine large one, built of logs and frame. The total loss is over $1,000. Fortunately the cows, of which Mr. Flinders has about a dozen, were not in the stables, or some of them, at least would have been lost. The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary. There is no insurance, so far as is known. Mr. Flinders is in Washington, and was notified by telegraph of the unfortunate occurrence. We are indebted to Mr. Jas. Tarwater for the information.

E. W. Adkins for the Senate.

The Republican Senatorial convention for the district composed of Knox and Anderson Counties, assembled, according to adjournment, at the court-house, yesterday, and was called to order by the chairman, C. B. Gossett.

On motion of Sam Anderson, James P. Reader was elected secretary.

On motion of W. F. Yardley, the following were appointed a committee on credentials: W. C. Bailey, G. L. Lewis and S. W. Leith, of Anderson County; W. F. Gibbs and W. F. Yardley, of Knox.

While the committee were out short speeches were made by M. A. Walker, Esq., of Knox, and Hon. R. N. Baker, of Anderson. The committee's report was made and adopted. Mr. E. W. Adkins, of Knox, was placed in nomination by Jno. T. Burchell, and Maj. L. C. Camp, of Knox was nominated by Sam Anderson.

The vote of Knox County resulted, Adkins 19, Camp 2. The three delegates from Anderson cast the vote that county for Adkins, and on motion of W. F. Yardley the nomination of E. W. Adkins for the Senate was made unanimous.

W. C. Bailey and M. J. R. Gault were appointed a committee to wait on Adkins, and he appeared and made a brief talk, announcing his principles. He was enthusiastically for State reform and allowing the settlement made by the late Mr. J. F. Raymond was authorized to appoint a senatorial committee, and the convention adjourned.

Humpty Dumpty Monday Night.

To-morrow night, at Staub's opera-house, the amusement season will be opened by Nick Roberts' famous and renowned Humpty Dumpty company, and all indications point to a packed house. They were in Atlanta, Ga., Friday night, and yesterday's consideration has this to say:

Nick Roberts' Humpty Dumpty, with its clever tricks, comical scenes and original specialties, was presented to a good sized house at DeGue's opera-house last night. It is difficult to forget the old Humpty Dumpty, or make it new, but Nick Roberts in the make-up of his troupe and features, gives as fine an entertainment as could be asked. The three clowns, Grimaldi, Dromo and Pedro, were exceedingly clever and comical, and the Harlequin of Mr. J. F. Raymond very good. The specialty artists were repeatedly cheered. The lady staircase band pleased the audience.

Miss Ida Bertha, a diva, of graceful motion, in her costume dance received repeated accolades. The zephyrus music of Miss Van Buron and the musical specialties and pantomime of the Oudra Brothers captured the audience. There was considerable dexterity in the feats of Wood and West. The tight rope performance of Eddie was as good as has ever been witnessed in DeGue's opera-house. He is a new acquisition to the company. In short, Nick Roberts' combination here, as it will anywhere, affords several hours of solid amusement.

THE DEATH SENTENCE.

Passed on Hill and Sam Hodge to Hang November 10th.

The death sentence was passed in the Supreme Court yesterday by Associate Justice T. J. Freeman on Hill and Sam Hodge, colored, and brothers, for the murder of James McFarland, colored. The atrocious crime which these two men are to deliver up their lives for was committed on the 5th of September, 1881, on the railroad works, at Beaver Ridge, Knox County. The details, as given at the trial, showed it to be one of the most cold-blooded murders in the annals of crime in our State. McFarland's wife was a sister of the Hodge boys. He was working on the railroad works. The boys accused him of mistreating and abusing their sister, his wife, which was doubtless true. They took their uncle, Henry McBoe, of this city, with them, found McFarland, pretended they had come to arrest him, had a scuffle with him, and succeeded in tying him with a rope, and while one held him the other, with an army gun, shot him dead. The Hodges escaped, but were afterwards captured. They were tried at the January 1882 term of the Knox County Criminal Court, convicted of murder in the first degree, without mitigating circumstances. A new trial was refused, and they were sentenced to be hanged on Friday, March 24th, between the hours of 10 and 3 o'clock, within one and a half miles of the Court House in Knoxville. An appeal to the Supreme Court was granted.

Judge Freeman's decision was brief and to the point. He affirmed the decision of the court below, and fixed the date that they shall hang on Friday, November 10th, 1882, the hour of the day the same as fixed by the Court below. The Hodges evinced very little feeling upon the delivery of the sentence. They only remarked to Officer Jones as he conveyed them back to the jail that "they can't kill us here but they can't up yonder."

Malice had two trials. He was first sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary, went to the Supreme Court and his case was sent back. On the next trial he received a sentence for one year, but appealed again, and that is now pending, he being on bail.

The Greene County Horse Thief.

Sheriff R. E. Remner, of Cooke County, and Mr. Jas. Henry, of Greene County, came down yesterday, to look after the horse corpus case of the man Jas. Allen who is in jail for stealing a horse from Mr. Henry, which he sold to Alderman McMillan, of our city. The case came before Hon. M. L. Hall, in the Criminal Court yesterday evening, on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, but the defendant's counsel announced themselves yet not ready for trial, on account of the absence of witnesses, and the hearing was further continued until next Saturday.

Carter Back to Chattanooga.

Sheriff Homer Gilmore went on yesterday's train to Chattanooga, taking Jacob L. Carter, the prisoner who was cuffed to John Taylor, when his brother rescued him and killed Sheriff Gate and Deputy Conway. Carter was sentenced to seven years for complicity in a murder in Hamilton County, but the Supreme Court sent his case back for a new hearing.

The Greene County Fair.

The Greene County fair, which was held at Greenville, three days of last week, may be written down as a decided success in all respects, reflecting much credit on the management. There were 1,038 entries during the progress, and the display was excellent in all the departments. The attendance was also very good, aggregating 3,000 or 4,000 persons. The display in the floral department, in charge of Messrs. J. B. Spencer and H. Reaves, was extra fine, and was the subject of general remark. The sensation of the occasion was the bicycle racing, which was novel and interesting. The occasion wound up Friday night with a grand and successful ball at the Tennessee House.

Why Should They?

No man or woman can do satisfactory work when the brain is dull, the nerves unsteady, the system relaxed and they feel generally wretched. Why should anybody drag through their work in this condition, when a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic will, at moderate cost, give them the strength and will to perform their duties satisfactorily.

A Pleasant and Successful Hunt.

Capt. Taylor Williams, the well known conductor on the E. T. & G. Railroad, has returned from a visit to his former home, in Monroe County. He had a successful hunt and a fine time generally, being accompanied by Floyd Peas. They took in thirty-four squirrels, a lot of possums, birds, &c.
